

Household Hazardous Waste & Electronics Drop-off Days

As in years past, City of Albany residents will have multiple chances to dispose of their household hazardous and electronic waste in an environmentally safe way. Residents must pre-register to participate. Please note: phone registration is closed the Friday before each event and online registration is closed the Tuesday before each event. However, registration for an event could close earlier if the maximum capacity is reached. To pre-register call the Department of General Services at 518-434-CITY (2489) or visit www.albanyrecycles.com to register online.

Everyone must pre-register for one of the following dates:

As residents of the City of Albany, we bear the responsibility to dispose of our household hazardous waste properly in order to protect and preserve the quality of our groundwater, streams, lakes, and rivers. Improper disposal of household hazardous waste can include pouring them down the drain, on the ground, into storm sewers, or in some cases putting them out with the regular trash. Successful collection efforts have helped to protect our groundwater from hazardous waste contamination.

The City of Albany Household Hazardous Waste Program is funded in part by the Environmental Protection Fund, as administered through the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation.
